All these and many more influences all working together must be taken into consideration to determine a proper opportunity. I wish we could pause a little in our consideration of what is best for Delta Gamma and give our attention to the universities and colleges where chapters of Delta Gamma are located. Why cannot each chapter honestly and conscientiously make a study of conditions in its particular university with a view to pursuing unselfishly a policy of helpfulness which will tend to reduce materially the criticism now so rampant against fraternities t As I see it our duty to our universities is twofold; to see that the chapters already established are serving the best interests of the university and to give the benefits of fraternity organization to a greater number of students. May Delta Gamma lead in the pursuance of these two objects.--Anchora...
